What is a school? What is its effect on those who are its students? How will it shape the lives we will lead? The years we spend in Lowell High School do not limit this effect, for the choices we will make, the decisions we will reach are made largely from the values we develop from those teachers and classmates who surround us. The clubs, the athletic teams, and the classes we participate in all combine to shape us—to make us what we will be. Though some of us will fail, most of us will succeed with the background we have gained here. Lowell High School will help make us what we will be; it will effect us far beyond the brief four years we spend here. This future mark, as well the present mark LHS makes on us, is the IMPACT our school has on us. It is to this IMPACT—this life shaping effect—that we dedicate the Lowellian of 1968.

Convocations, pep sessions, dances, plays, musicals, and post-sectional days leave a lasting impact on each of our lives. The inspiration of a guest speaker at a convocation will always be remembered; the thrill of a rousing pep session as the cheerleaders urge us on to new heights of spirit and support for our team; the groovey feeling of dancing with a "certain" someone; the enjoyment the audience receives and the satisfaction the performers receive at a "hit" play or musical; and the feeling of pride as each of the student body can say, "We're number one." These are the segments of our school life that leave a lasting impact on our lives as we prepare to take part in future events of the world.

Queen Linda Reigns in '68

Participation was the word for Homecoming '68. The students donned sweatshirts on Monday, solid colors on Tuesday, flowers had the power on Wednesday, we dressed up on Thursday, and backed our team with school colors on Friday. Posters, like Melody Kudlo's (left) decorated the halls and symbolized the students' spirit.

Students worked after school to prepare floats for the biggest and best homecoming parade ever. The parade led crowds to the bonfire (right) where cheers were shouted. The winners of the float competition were announced: The Home-Ec Club took first, the Pep Club, second, and the Senior Class, third.

The annual pep session was moved indoors because of rain, but no natural element could depress the dynamic Devils, and their fantastic followers.

The Griffith 13, Lowell 7 halftime score failed to depress the crowd as Student Council President, Pete Kasper, crowned Linda Weaver Homecoming Queen.

The conflict resumed and the Devils, determined to win the most important game of the year, pulled through victoriously as we topped the Panthers, 21—20.

Big Sis—Little Sis Party

Lowell's second annual Big Sis-Little Sis party was held on September 26, 1967. Among other seniors who provided entertainment were, Linda Weaver, Linda Kitchens, and Chris Nassau (upper left) who illustrated how to play London Bridge Is Falling Down, while Judy Nord and Clyda Sark (upper right) furnished music for the game.

Cookies and punch were served by the Home Ec girls, and the freshmen were instructed how to dress for school the next day, wearing a dark skirt, a white blouse, a green neck scarf, a green hair ribbon around a pony tail, one nylon and one sports sock.

The Grand Finale, however, came the next day during noon hour when the freshmen went into the gym and bowed to the seniors (below) just to show their respect(?).

On stage, B. Herz, M. Rosenthal, alternates.

Each year a few selected Junior boys and girls are delegated to participate in Girls' and Boys' State at Indiana University in Bloomington. During their stay on the scenic university campus the delegates learn the principles of the Indiana Government. They are given a chance to run for election to office and mock elections are held at the end of their stay. For one day the delegates assume the responsibility that the office entails. This gives the staters an inside look at the political side of Indiana.

Girls FRONT ROW: K. Wade, T. Selvidge, delegates. STANDING, J. Ruge, S. Stuart, alternates.

Intramural Basketball

One night a week, the L.H.S. gym was reserved for "Intramural Basketball" sponsored by Mr. McCloud and Mr. Pelly, it was a great success. Forty boys took interest and were organized into four teams. The games had many thrilling moments, and all arguments kept to a minimum. No one fought without a referee. With a friendly honest game of round-ball in mind, the evening sounded with a BUZZ from the clock. But if the scorer wasn't cheating, the timer holding time, or the referees showing favoritism the games would not have been so successful. Before the games were over everyone knew "it's not how you play the game it's who wins"

Lock, Stock, and Lipstick

On November 17, 1968, the Senior class presented Lock, Stock, and Lipstick, a three act comedy by John Henderson. The play concerned a "stuffy" guidance counselor in a typical High School, who objected to anything new or unusual. His world was just fine until his office was "invaded" by a woman counselor. The plot thickened with the disappearance of $500 of yearbook money. With money found, the battle of the sexes won, and the principalship in the hands of our hero, a happy ending was enjoyed by all.

To go along with the flavor of the theme, the stage was decorated as a Southern Mansion, with four white pillars and two large double doors to the rear.*

Choir Presents Brigadoon

Brigadoon was a town which had been saved from a band of witches in the eighteenth century by a Miracle of God which allowed it to appear only one day in each century.

Two American adventurers, played by Phil Slaman and Rodney Schoon, find Brigadoon on a day when a wedding is to take place. The two men are fascinated with the quaint old village and decide to stay for the wedding.

After a beautiful day together, one of the Americans, Tommy, falls in love with one of the girls of the village played by Monica Beckmann. After Tommy decides to stay and marry her, the old schoolmaster, played by John Billings tells the story.

Through the influence of his friend, Tommy returns to America rather than be a part of the strange village. He can find no peace, however, and soon returns to Scotland to find his true love.

Frank (Dave Gunnerson) listens to the problems of intoxicated Jeff (Rodney Schoon) after Jeff had returned from his unbelievable trip to Scotland.

The townsfolk of Brigadoon (above) look on as some of the men bring back the body of Harry Beaton (Laurence Ketelaar) after he was killed trying to leave Brigadoon.

Tommy Albright (right) played by Phil Slaman and Fiona MacLaren played by Monica Beckmann, embrace a sad good-by when the time comes for Brigadoon to vanish for another century.

Judy Nord 1968 Junior Miss

January 4, 1968 marked the Junior Miss Pageant sponsored by the Jaycees. The purpose of the Pageant is to find the ideal high school senior girl who must meet high standards with emphasis placed on personality, character, achievement, and poise.

The girls were presented with charm bracelets. As winner, Judy received the title of Lowell's Junior Miss and the opportunity to represent Lowell in the State Junior Miss Pageant held in Frankfort, Indiana.

Many hours of hard work and practice went toward making the show a success, and the band is looking forward to another next year.

This year's most valuable staffer award was presented to Judy Fleener for her outstanding job as editor of the Lowellette.

Mr. Snell and Mr. Sype receive a special award for their contribution to the Drivers Education Program at Lowell.

The 1968 Awards Day was held in the high school gymnasium on May 22, 1968. As done in the past, the Senior class sat in front on the gym floor to denote special honor. The Seniors were the recipients of most of the honors.

Awards are given in every field, including art, publications, sports, and academic achievements.

Among other awards given, there were: The American Legion Scholarship awarded to James Burroughs; the American Legion Auxiliary Scholarship awarded to Marie Beckmann; the Elizabeth Brownell Award to Malcolm Smith; the Gladys Hetherington English Award given to James Burroughs, as well as the Bausch and Lomb Science Award; the DeKalb Agriculture Award to Don Kutemier; the Betty Crocker Award given to Judith Holt; and the DAR Good Citizenship Award to Clyda Sark.

These were only a few of the many awards given on Honor Day. The purpose of this day is to acknowledge the many activities of the students other than just academic achievements.

For outstanding achievement in a Foreign language, Linda Weaver accepts the French award.

This year's girl's art award was presented to Mellody Kudlo for her achievements and work in the field of art.

The impact of academics on our lives is an important one. The elements of knowledge we gain in our classes remain with us forever. Our knowledge is the determining factor that will gain us membership in a college, or get us a better position in the working world.

The classes we attend give us an opportunity to express ourselves, to learn about our world, and to evaluate our ideas and ideals. These leave a lasting impact on us which will, in time, determine the way we live and the type of person we become.

Mr. Elbert and Dr. Schnepf

"Doctor is out, can I take a message?" You might very well have heard these words in the office second semester, for Mr. Schnepf added the title Doctor to his name after completing the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Educational Administration.

Joining our Principal in planning for the new facility growing rapidly to the East of Lowell, is our Assistant Principal Mr. James Elbert. While the new school building took up much of their time this past year, both had the pleasure of administering a school which won its first sectional, scored a winning football record for the first time in years, and generally dazzled the world with its brilliance (!?). To both Dr. Schnepf and Mr. Elbert we owe a debt of gratitude for keeping LHS on the road to success scholastically, athletically, and in the field of making good citizens.

Superintendent of Schools, Roger Sturm and Assistant, Wilford Ogle are the "men down town" in the main office of the Tri-Creek system. Much of this year was spent, no doubt, in planning for occupancy of the new high school building. Grade schools and junior highs also must have busied the minds of our administrators, for planning for the future is one of the constant activities with such positions as these. Judging from the results of the short three years past, they are doing a fine job, and LHS and the community in general can be proud of them.

Cadet Teachers

This year was the second year for cadet teachers. Cadet teachers are seniors who are extremely interested in entering the field of teaching. This program is designed to help these students get a better idea of the teaching profession they may enter.

The Seniors are allowed to choose the grade level and subject which they would like to assist. This area is usually the one they plan to teach in themselves.

After being introduced to the teacher and the class, the cadet teacher spends the rest of the semester working with the children and becoming familiar with the subject.

These students are assigned many various tasks such as grading papers, giving spelling tests, helping with reading lessons, giving quizzes, and occasionally taking over the class for a day. All this gives the cadet teacher a well-rounded idea of what it is like "on the other side of the desk."

In addition, all of these students receive a great feeling of satisfaction in knowing they helped someone gain knowledge.

Substitute and Assistants

Mrs. Keithley (left) substituted for Miss Wilcox for more than 12 weeks after Miss Wilcox was injured in a fall. During this time, Mrs. Keithley became the same as any other teacher. Without her help, much of the business department would have been at a standstill. It was agreed by her students that she was a true asset to the staff of Lowell.

Mrs. Sampson (below) was the first full-time study hall teacher. She kept the study hall orderly, made it a good place to study, as well as handing out a few punishments along the way. She too played a vital roll in the school year.

Mrs. Stephen (left below) was, for the second year, an assistant to Miss Thompson. She aided many students in the choice of reading material, and located hundreds of research books for term paper writing people.

We do not have a picture of Mr. Davis, but we feel some recognition is in order. He was our student teacher for 6 weeks, and also aided us in many ways. He supposedly learned as much from us as we from him, but he did present a change from the usual at Lowell.

All of these people deserve a big THANK-YOU. For, without their help, our school year would have been a lot harder, and less profitable for us.

Organizations are a necessary part of a well rounded education. The impact of belonging to an organization is a combination of responsibility, new and binding friendships and fun.

For an organization to run smoothly, responsible conscientious people must put time and effort into every action. The members must be able to work together and get along, thus resulting in good friendships. Lastly, the outcome of an organization's work is fun for all who participated and attended. This is the impact of organizations on the student.

The Latin Club, under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Nichols, had one of its most active years ever. The organization held its annual Latin Banquet on March 8, 1968. The group dressed in togas, ate lying on the floor, and had their food brought to them by "slaves" (to all you laymen, the slaves are first year Latin students). Before the dinner began, the Pontifex Maximus made a sacrifice and everyone at the dinner gave homage to Neptune (God of the Sea). The menu for the dinner was written in Latin, with English translation, and consisted of everything from apples to cookies.

The other big activity of the Latin Club was the construction of a scale model of Rome. This was quite a lengthy project, because as everyone knows, "Rome wasn't built in a day."

Being a member of Thespians is a great honor, because in order for one to belong to the organization, he must be able to accept both criticism, and disappointment with the patience of Job.*

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club provides an opportunity for any girl to engage in home oriented activities outside the classroom. Meetings often feature a guest speaker addressing the girls on various informative topics.

Members engage in an annual project of community service of school improvement. And, of course, the Home Economics cooperates with the G.A.A. to plan and execute the Mother's Tea, which is not planned to be a profitable event; therefore, the club conducts a vigorous candy campaign to defray costs. The club members volunteer for a very busy school year.

Our halls are full of students with beaming faces and these faces are representative of Sunshine Club members. The club is composed of students elected as Freshmen, who continue to serve for four years.

"Bring in your Betty Crocker coupons!" This is a familiar cry of the organization. The club has been saving coupons for several years with the intent of buying the school a gift when the desired amount is reached. Also, the club, along with the Student Council, is supporting an Indian boy, Richard Lopez.

Their most important duty, is perhaps, for the members to always wear a smile and be ready to serve when needed.

The Band Marches On

"Busy" does not sufficiently describe the marching Red Devils during the 1967-1968 year. Their season began with two parades on July fourth. First in the Whiting parade, the Band received 5th place, later in the day, they won first place marching in the Portage parade. Other events during the year were the Riverview Mardi Gras, the Labor Day Parade, half-time football routines, basketball games, pep sessions, and I.S.U.'s Homecoming celebration at Terre Haute.

In March, the band staged a very different type of concert called "Musical Moods" which dealt with popular and secular music.

To top the year, the Band held a uniform drive to raise money for much needed new uniforms.

“L” Club

The L Club was originally conceived as a service group; this year they certainly served that purpose. Perhaps the chore which made the students happiest was the conducting of all refreshment sales at athletic events. By the way, it also made funds available to the club. ## Pep Club

The LHS Pep Club found itself very busy during the winter season. With the basketball record encouraging them, the club organized to sell flowers to the girls during tournament time, helped organize the boys pep block, drummed up enthusiasm enough to cause six buses to caravan to the Regionals! All window decoration during the tournament excitement was organized by the girls as well.

Girls Athletic Association

The Girls Athletic Association is a dedicated group of High School girls who wish to keep their bodies in the best physical condition possible, and their minds alert. They accomplish this end through participating in intra-mural sports after school.

The organization co-operates in making possible the Mothers' Tea. Other activities include a float for the Homecoming parade, and traveling to other schools in the conference to participate in basketball.

All in all, the girls have a good time, keep their bodies fit, and learn what it is like to strive for supremacy on the field of friendly rivalry.

Photography Staff

In order to make any yearbook a success the photographers must be first rate. They must be at the right places at the right times, since they hold a big responsibility to all of the students at L.H.S. Their efficiency and co-operation have made this yearbook a success. We would like to give special thanks to all the photography staff for their much appreciated help. A special thanks goes to Bud Hall, who was the head photographer who devoted much time and effort to give us candid shots and other pictures which enables us to show the actual school life of the students.

Student Council

LHS's Student Council was as busy as in '68 as it ever was. Besides presenting the annual Christmas formal, "Winter Wonderland," the Council conducted this year's Victorious Homecoming festivities. The service project which is done annually for the town of Lowell was, this year, a baby-sitting clinic, held at the high school, to allow busy mothers the opportunity to shop "without Junior." Certainly this past year's most unusual project was the Computer Dance held concurrently with Crown Point High School.

The impact of sports at Lowell is desire, the desire to end up in the "winners circle." This year, that desire became a reality. Each member of every team gave all he possibly could to make our school come out on top. With the added strength of a great coaching staff, and a few hundred loyal Devil fans, we did just that, came out on top.

The players received added impact from the continual cheers of the fans, and the fans received encouragement from the brilliant plays made by their heroes.

After only one year of rebuilding and preparation, the 1967 version of the Lowell Red Devils took a crucial step upward on the ladder of success. To say the least, it has been a rather steep climb.

Led by a two year veteran coaching staff, our gridmen tasted victory, something new for Lowell. After a slow start, our squad picked up momentum along with vital enthusiasm, and was undefeated in the final five contests. The final ledger read 5—4—1. Also, to the dismay of the coaching staff, no loss came by more than a single down.

According to Coach Klein, "Many teams would have folded following a heartbreaking loss such as that against Merrillville, and then having to settle for a tie the next week against Lake Central. These young men, however, had the strength of purpose to win."

Led by All-Conference quarterback, Don VanDeursen and defensive co-captain, Leo Hughes, the Red Devils did just that—they won! After victory eluded them in the final seconds against Merrillville, and in a tough tie game against Lake Central with All-State fullback Greichunos, the 1967 Devils won four straight. We rolled over Griffith, Portage, Highland, and Gary Edison to end the season.

At the outset, it was a comparatively inexperienced team. Therefore, the game experience gained through the early part of the season provided the tools necessary to do the job during the latter part.

Varsity Basketball

It's been a long time since anyone has been able to ask a Lowell basketball coach what was the key to his success. This year it's possible.

It seems that there were many factors which contributed to this year's winning season. For a championship team, there must be a presence of teamwork, desire, hustle, and will to win, along with some good coaching. This year's squad had all of them, the result, a tremendous 19-5 season.

This record is very significant. It includes such firsts as most wins in Lowell's history, least losses, most points in a season, and greatest average of points per game. The best previous record was 15-7 in 1922-23. Even more honors were bestowed on this year's team. It was the school's second Calumet Conference champion and our first Sectional championship. Also, we received the Sectional Sportsmanship trophy, which is a great honor.

There were also many memorable individual awards. One went to our fine coach, Mr. Ford, who was named the Suburban Coach of the year. Rodney Schoon was All-Conference, All-Sectional, and Co-most valuable player; John McLellan was All-Conference Honorable Mention, All-Regional, and received the team's assist award; Don VanDeursen was All-Sectional and Co-most valuable player of the team; and Dave Roberts was All-Sectional and received the team's free throw percentage award. The Juniors receiving honors were Terry Padgett, All-Conference Honorable Mention, and team rebounding award; and Tom Johnson, the team field goal percentage award.

Lowell Devils Capture Sectional Title

The 1967-68 Lowell Red Devil basketball team accomplished a feat unequaled in the history of the school—a Sectional Championship!

As the Sectionals began at Crown Point, few had chosen Lowell to go all the way. The concensus was that the winner of the Griffith-Crown Point game in the afternoon would emerge as champion.

The Devils, however, had other ideas. We overcame Hanover in the initial game with a come-from-behind fourth quarter, and eliminated highly touted Merrillville in the Saturday afternoon game. We were in the finals! This alone had only once been done by a Lowell basketball team.

Co-captains John McLellan, Dave Roberts, and Don Van-Deursen jubilantly share temporary possession of the sectional trophy. Right, "We're number one."

As expected, Crown Point bumped off Griffith, for the third time of the season. Our archrivals were to be our opponents in our bid for the Sectional crown!

Crown Point grabbed an early lead, and we were down by three at the quarter. Both teams played on even terms in the second quarter, with the Devils gaining the edge at the half 36—33.

When the third quarter began, the Devils caught fire. We out-scored them 10—2 in the first two minutes of the second half on quickies by Johnson and Padgett, and five straight points by Roberts. That was the ball game—final: 82—68 and our first Sectional Championship!

For the second year in a row, the Junior Varsity basketball team has come up with a tremendous season. At 18-2 they had one of the top J. V. records in the state.

Both of these great years have come under the guidance of Coach Weiland. He has demanded and received the kind of hustle and desire so vital to the making of a winning team.

The Junior Varsity has displayed its talent and set the stage for another victorious varsity season next year.

GOOD LUCK, and keep up the winning spirit!

Freshman Basketball

The hope of any team's future lies in their freshman squad. This year, the Freshman version of the Basketball team finished with an overall season of 17—12. The transition from grade school to high school basketball is a great one. The change would not be successfully made without a good coaching staff who is willing to give time, patience and advice to the boys. Our Frosh team had this advantage also, under the watchful eyes of Mr. Armand Reyes and Mr. Gary Druckemiller.

No one knows the potential these boys possess, so keep a sharp eye on them in the next few years.

Varsity

Wrestling

The Red Devil wrestling team was hampered badly this year by injuries. The final 6-8 season record was not indicative of the team, considering that during the season we gave away thirty points in forfeits. Since we seldom lost by more than four or five points, those thirty points possibly prevented a winning season.

Also hindered by broken bones and illness we had to call on the J.V. wrestlers eight times to fill in. When needed they did fine jobs and showed much promise.

We will miss the eight seniors on the squad next year since all but two had winning records. However, with the help of a fine coach, Mr. Siatta, the underclassmen should be able to fill the spots well.

Junior Varsity Wrestling

The Junior Varsity wrestling team was hurt badly by injuries and a shortage of wrestlers. Coached by Mr. Wornhoff they made a very good showing, although their record of 5—8—I doesn't show it.

They gave away an unheard of 120 points in forfeits and never entered a match with a full squad. However most of the individual wrestlers had winning records.

The J.V.'s certainly will be a great supplement for the varsity next year. This year they showed their determination and winning attitude despite a shortage of material.

Cheerleaders Arouse Great

The 1968 edition of the LHS varsity cheerleaders began their big year with a visit to a cheerleading clinic attended by yell leaders from all over the Midwest. At left is shown the skit which 'wowed' everyone at the Sectional victory rally following the Devils' defeat of the Crown Point Bulldog. The barbershop harmony and style of their skit was refreshingly funny.

"... and rain is predicted tomorrow ... " these words daily harried Coach Miller's golf team. In spite of weather and an unspectacular record, a basically young team shows promise for next year. Now, if we can only influence the weather people to allow some sun for the 1969 season ...

DEVILS: THE SENORS
ARE BEHIND YOU - WANT A VICTORY

A black and white photograph of a school hallway. The image shows rows of lockers on the right side, with various pipes and conduits running along the ceiling and walls. The perspective is looking down the length of the hallway, creating a sense of depth. The lighting is somewhat dim, typical of an indoor school setting.

The impact of the last high school year on the Senior is a strange, but a wonderful one. The Seniors order cap and gowns, announcements, and pictures. They wear Senior-cords, and think about the joys and sorrows that have come their way for four long years.

The result? The result is a fine group of young men and women who realize just what the impact of high school has been, for this impact has made them ready to go on to new heights and conquer their dreams.

The impact of high school on the underclassmen is anticipation. They wait for school sweaters, class rings, their first Christmas Formal, and the first Junior-Senior prom they can attend.

The underclassmen support their school and team with an appealing, fresh type of enthusiasm that can only be matched by the most loyal of Devil fans. They bring this support to all the sports activities in the form of loyal cheers, to the convocations by active participation, and into the classroom in their own form of a new quest for knowledge.

The Junior class devoted most of their "off-duty" hours to the task of raising money for the '68 prom. In addition to many things, they sponsored a Sadie Hawkins Day Dance, numerous car washes, and a very successful booth at the Student Council Carnival. Their work was not in vain, for the prom, Gone With The Wind, was one of the most beautiful ever.

Sophomores

The Sophomore kept in touch with "what's happening" through their jail entry in the Student Council carnival. Their Super Sophomore Hall for post-sectional victory week was by far the most interesting, and was topped with an excellent bulletin board devoted to our winning basketball players.

The impact of advertising on this yearbook has been a helpful one. Without the fine businessmen in the Lowell Community, there would have been no yearbook, for they supply a great deal of the money needed in producing this yearly production.

Many students, as well as our business manager, and photographer, gave many long hours for the purpose of selling and taking pictures of the following advertisements.

Perhaps a special thanks should be given to everyone connected with the business department, for their assistance in making the following pages possible.

High School is a waste of time . . .

. . . unless you find a job that turns you on and makes good use of your education. Inland Steel wants only people who want to use everything they've learned in high school--and strongly desire to grow personally and in their chosen field.

Inland's future growth depends on the creativity and productivity of its people. If you want a really challenging opportunity to contribute--with the rewards and responsibilities that go with it--Inland wants to talk to you.

We need action-seeking graduates for opportunities in clerical . . . production . . . technical . . . and craft apprenticeship areas.

Think it over. If you have high aspirations and a good high school record, take time to find out about a career with us.
